Green Depression Glassware in Display Case

Marlene Schmalbeck is helping the library to celebrate the month of St. Patrick with her display of Green Depression Glassware. It is a most beautiful and colorful collection. For the past 55 years of her marriage, Marlene has been collecting the green glassware pieces as they struck her fancy either at auctions, antique stores or other places. Some of the items have come from relatives, but most she sought out herself. It is an eclectic collection with different patterns, but the color must always be green which she thinks is the most beautiful. When Marlene began collecting this glassware, the prices were low enough to make it fun to find such treasures.

She likes to collect glassware and has a collection of milkglass as well as some pieces of clear and yellow depression glassware. Even though, she is a big collector of glassware, her daughters prefer dishes that can be put into the dishwasher; therefore the collection is for sale. If you are interested, call Marlene at 938-4445.

There are no dinnerplates in this display, but there are dessert plates, coffee cups with saucers, bowls, a pitcher, sherrberts, a juicer, salt cellar, two large measuring cups, a platter, and coasters. Most of the time, this collection is stored in her attic. Thank you so much for bringing it out of storage to share with us! The green, not only reminds us of St. Patrick's Day, but that Spring is around the corner somewhere!

Stop into the library to view Marlene's excellent display and to check out a book on glassware.

Friends Meeting

Pat Sellon, President of the Friends of the Library Group, has called a special meeting on Tuesday, March 10, 2009 in the library at 7:30 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss support of the Family Reading Night at school.

Anyone is welcome to attend this meeting with paid members able to vote.

Thanks to everyone who recently renewed their annual memberships or who joined the Friends. The winners of the Monticello Money, book bag and recipe book were Mike & Mary Davis.

Book Discussion Group

The March selection for the Book Discussion Group is THE PACT: A LOVE STORY by Jodi Picoult. Once again, the Group is reading a novel by the popular author who tends to write about controversial subjects from all angles. Her books always present wonderful discussions so come into the library, pick up a copy and join on Wednesday evening, March 18, 2009 at 7:30. Mary Davis will be leading the discussion.
